

Tenured Faculty Position
Department of Physiology & Biophysics
Case Western Reserve University
School of Medicine

The Department of Physiology and Biophysics at Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine seeks a faculty member at the rank of Full Professor engaged in study of the kidney using electrophysiological techniques. Applicants must have a Ph.D., M.D. or equivalent degree, and demonstrated academic excellence. Appointment at the Professor level will require substantial evidence of international recognition, leadership in the applicant's academic field, outstanding productivity and a sustained record of funding by the National Institutes of Health.

The successful applicant will be expected to continue a robust extramurally-funded research program that compliments current programs within the Department. All areas will be considered; however, areas of particular interest are: 1) mechanisms of ion/water transport; 2) regulation of transport; and 3) renal control of blood pressure.

The Department of Physiology and Biophysics includes 18 primary and 32 secondary faculty members. The Department has a strong record of renal research.

Interested candidates should send an electronic application that includes a cover letter, complete curriculum vitae including funding history, a one-page summary of research interests and the names and contact information for three references to: RenalSearch@case.edu. Application deadline is April 30, 2019.
