The University of California division of Agriculture and Natural Resources (UC ANR) seeks an academic advisor to conduct a multi-county-based extension, education, and applied research program providing leadership to the University of California Cooperative Extension (UCCE) low-income nutrition education programs funded by the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) and the UC CalFresh Nutrition Education Program (a SNAP-Ed Program).

We seek an advisor who will:

- Provide academic leadership for two federally funded nutrition education programs targeted toward low-income families and youth (namely EFNEP and UC CalFresh Nutrition Education).
- Conduct a comprehensive communitywide NFCS needs assessment and monitor trends and issues.
- Develop and implement applied research designed to monitor changes and solve locally relevant problems.
- Evaluate programs and report accomplishments, results, and potential or actual impacts to scientific and lay audiences through a variety of outreach methods.
- Interact with UC ANR network of collaborators to influence the local delivery of statewide programs at the local level.
- Maintain and promote UC ANR CE’s credibility and visibility by participating in professional organizations and collaborating with county government partners, health agencies, policy makers, and community organizations by providing independent science-based information and leadership.

For information about UC ANR, the rich breadth of program scope and delivery, and how we are making a difference in California, candidates are invited to visit our Web site: http://ucanr.edu/.

This is an academic career track appointment with the following requirements:

- A minimum of a master's degree or other advanced degree in nutrition, health education, human development or a closely related field.
- Must possess an understanding of nutrition through academic training and/or professional experience.
- Professional experience in program and personnel management.
- Academic training and/or professional experience in program design and research methodologies.
- Excellent written, oral and interpersonal communication skills.

Possessing the ability to apply low-literacy and cultural/ethnic principles to program-research design and community collaboration and bilingual communication skills in Spanish or an Asian language are highly desirable attributes.

Beginning salary will be in the Cooperative Extension Assistant Advisor Rank, and commensurate with applicable experience and professional qualifications.
