Position posting date: May 24, 2018
Position start date: ASAP or until filled
Salary/Range: Dependent on Experience (DOE)
Status: Full time (40 hours per/wk), benefits eligible
Work Schedule: Monday-Friday 9:00 AM-5:30 PM
Work Location: San Diego, CA
Service/Division: Research/Nephrology/Hypertension

Qualifications Summary:
Bachelor’s degree in a related field from a four-year college or university and at least 6 months of related experience; or equivalent combination of education and experience. Associate will be highly motivated, diligent, responsible team player and have excellent communication skills.

Job Description Summary:
Performs standard laboratory and/or field experimental procedures that require technical knowledge and skills. Performs and analyzes rodent studies, including but not limited to; rodent handling and microsurgery, microanalysis in nanoliter volumina, gene and protein expression and biochemical analyses, microscopy and immunohistochemistry, data analysis and graph/manuscript preparation/presentation. Completes administrative paperwork. Complies with safety and security policies and procedures. May perform additional duties as required.