TEACHING SECTION DINNER AT EB2006

The annual Teaching Section dinner will take place on Monday April 3 at 7:00 pm in the Martini Bar Room of Jillian’s @ Metreon located between the San Francisco Marriott and the Moscone Convention Center. Pre-registration is required, but tickets may still be available if you contact John Griffin at jdgri2@wm.edu. Dinner will be a buffet style with a cash bar and plenty of room to meet and mingle.

AWARDS GIVEN AT EB2006

Daniel Richardson, Professor of Physiology at the University of Kentucky College of Medicine, was awarded the 2006 Arthur C. Guyton Teacher of the Year Award.

The Guyton Award is the highest honor given for teaching in Physiology recognizing "the significant impact on the students you teach, on your institution and an enduring and significant impact on physiology education on the national and international stage." Dr. Richardson has an extensive list of accomplishments in physiology. A striking and recurring theme that is noticed in his portfolio is his perpetual desire and natural ability to serve others by enabling them to learn. He has taught as well as developed courses from third grade through graduate degrees. His service extends from the local to international level and is not limited to teaching. The Arthur C. Guyton Award provides $1,000 and expenses to attend the Experimental Biology meeting. The award will be presented and he will be formally recognized at the APS Business Meeting scheduled for Tuesday, April 4th at 5:45 pm, room 134, Moscone Convention Center. Everyone is encouraged to join us in congratulating Dr. Richardson on receiving this prestigious award.

Mildred Hoover, Assistant Professor of Biology at Salem State College in Massachusetts, was the recipient of the Teaching Section 2006 New Investigator Travel Award. The recipient receives $1,000 in recognition for high quality work in the early stages of their career.

Two Research Recognition Awards provide $500 for travel to recognize an outstanding abstract presented for a Teaching Poster Session at EB2006. These awards will be given at the Teaching Section Dinner on Monday, April 3 at Jillian’s @ Metreon in San Francisco.

Jennifer Lundmark, of the Department of Biological Sciences at California State University Sacramento, won a Research Recognition Award for her work developing an undergrad Advanced Problems in Physiology course.

Erica Wehrwein, of the Department of Physiology at Michigan State University, won a Research Recognition Award for her work on gender differences in learning style preference among undergraduate physiology students.

AWARD OPPORTUNITIES: For more information about the Teaching Research Recognition Awards, the New Investigator Award, and Arthur C. Guyton Physiology Educator of the Year Award go to meetings/eb06/awards/teaching.htm.
EB 2006 Schedule of Teaching Section Events

Refresher Course (Sponsored by the APS Education Committee):
Gender Differences in Physiology
Saturday, April 1, 8:00 AM  Convention Center, 130, Moscone North
Chair: Martha L. Blair, University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry

Featured Topic:
Undergraduate Skills: What Should Students Be Able to Do?
Sunday, April 2, 8:00 AM  Convention Center, 250, Mezzanine West
Chair: Dee U. Silverthorn, University of Texas, Austin

Box Lunch Roundtable Discussion
Sunday, April 2, noon  Marriott, Pacific H

Claude Bernard Distinguished Lectureship
Teaching and learning in the interactive classroom
Sunday, April 2, 2:00 PM  Convention Center, 131, Moscone North
Dee U. Silverthorn, University of Texas, Austin
(We are happy to report that Dee Silverthorn was elected to Council for the American Physiological Society!)

Symposium:
How Prepared Are Your Students to Learn Physiology?
Monday, April 3, 8:00 AM  Convention Center, 132, Moscone North
Chair: Howard Kutchai, University of Virginia

APS Teaching Section Business Meeting
Monday, April 3, 5:45 pm  Convention Center, Room 274/276
Open to everyone! The Teaching of Physiology Section New Investigator Award and Research Recognition Awards will be presented. Followed by the annual Teaching Section dinner at 7:00 pm in the Martini Bar Room of Jillian’s@Metreon.

APS Business Meeting
Tuesday, April 4, 5:45 PM  Convention Center, 134, Moscone North
Open to everyone! The 2006 Arthur C. Guyton Physiology Educator of the Year Award and other society awards will be presented.

Poster Sessions (check the schedule for specific times when authors present)
