VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR POSITION IN VERTEBRATE PHYSIOLOGY
THE W.M. KECK SCIENCE DEPARTMENT OF
CLAREMONT McKENNA, PITZER, AND SCRIPPS COLLEGES

The W.M. Keck Science Department of Claremont McKenna, Pitzer, and Scripps Colleges, three of the five undergraduate Claremont Colleges, seeks to hire a visiting assistant professor for one or two years, beginning Spring 2020 to teach Vertebrate Physiology.

Participation in research, particularly directing undergraduate projects, may be possible. A Ph.D. in biology or related subject is required and prior teaching experience preferred.

Please apply online at https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty_opening_detail.php?PostingID=16001. Upload a cover letter including the position(s) of interest, a C.V., a statement of teaching philosophy, a diversity statement (of no more than 1 page) outlining the applicant’s philosophy for fostering an educational environment that is inclusive of all students, and the names and e-mail addresses of three references. Direct inquiries to Dr. Marion Preest at mpreest@kecksci.claremont.edu. Additional information about the department can be found at www.kecksci.claremont.edu. Review of applications begins Oct 15, 2019 and the position will remain open until filled.

The Keck Science Department of Claremont McKenna, Pitzer, and Scripps Colleges is an equal opportunity employer. In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal educational and employment opportunities, the department actively encourages applications from women and members of historically under-represented social groups in higher education.
