The Oklahoma State University-Center for Health Sciences invites applications for a faculty position in Pharmacology at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Pharmacology and Physiology. The position is a 12-month tenure-track appointment that offers an exciting opportunity to join an integrated and innovative learner-centered academic program. Areas of expertise/interest may include, but are not limited to, general or neuropharmacology, cardiovascular or endocrine function, or toxicology. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue research and teach medical and graduate courses, along with appropriate service to the College, University and the community.

A doctorate in Pharmacology or a related discipline and post-doctoral experience in the relevant discipline are required. History of extramural funding or evidence of potential to obtain extramural funding and previous teaching experience are preferred. Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, brief plan for research, statement of teaching philosophy, and contact information for three references. The position is available beginning July 1, 2020 and review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.
